Several of the children of Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Johnson were under the care of physicians the first of the week.

Mrs. Lamkin invited a few of the little friends of her son, Henry, to their home Monday afternoon in honor of the child's birthday.

The state food and drug inspector of Tennessee says that 22,500 people in that state are habitual users of drugs. He says that drug using is more pernicious than drinking as it is done in private and no one knows anything of the habit until it is too far developed to be successfully handled.

Gerald Wilcox of McCook, Neb. sold a bunch of nine-months hogs for about $18 per head this week. He got good money for them because he handles them right, feeding them along scientific lines. He says hogs are money makers and are worth plenty of work to keep them free of worms, lice and other vermin.

More winter this week. The thermometer was down to 32 degrees, freezing point the first of week and a frost made a number fear for the early gardens which had begun to manifest their presence. The damage however was slight if any and the lovers of vegetables and those who hope to cut down the high cost of living expect to begin on the greenstuff before many weeks.

Miss Grace Closson was in Salisbury Tuesday shopping.

The board of equalization was in session the first of the week. Prosecuting Attorney Rucker was in Salisbury prosecuting a state case Monday.

Horace Elliott is employed at the S. M. White grocery during the absence of Robert White.

Mr. and Mrs. Mac Welch of Salisbury were guests at the Wayland home during the Sabbath.

The U. D. C. will meet next Monday evening at the home of Miss Leannah Minter at 7:30 o'clock.

The fruit prospect in the state is placed at 91 per cent and peaches at 83.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Ewing are parents of a son, William Nathaniel, born to them Friday night of last week.

Look out! The Indian Grove correspondent reported a lightning rod agent headed this way the first of the week.

Near Webb City early Sunday morning, wolves killed a flock of 59 sheep belonging to B. C. Aylor, a wealthy farmer.

Mrs. C. P. Vandiver arrived here Wednesday from Kansas City. She spent the day on business and returned in the evening.

Shannon Wayland of St. Louis arrived here this week for a stay of several days with his father J. W. Wayland and other relatives.

The election Tuesday stirred them up pretty lively. There was considerably apathy for a while but it ended up in a fast campaign.

An agreement was filed in which H. L. Dwelle contracted with L. Chandler to extend the time of payment of a sum named in contract.

Wallace Richardson returned Wednesday for a visit at home for a few days, having a vacation from duties at the dental school at St. Louis.

In the number of the hogs to be found on its farms, Missouri ranks second fifth in number of horses and sixth in its number of beef cattle. The demand for veal and lambs has kept down the number of cattle which would otherwise be found here.

Mustard and other kinds of greens came into fashion last week. They are palatable and cheap and there are few varieties of grasses and kindred growths that cannot be made into a dish decidedly good for the system at this time of the year.

The good sale for milk cows and the high prices they bring to show how much they are in demand at present. They sell as high as $90 at some of these are not distinguished for their breeding either. This is big money but it seems queer that they would bring this money if they could not produce results.

The electric light and power question will soon take definite form and the citizens of the city regaled with efforts at bettering conditions which we have no doubt will be endorsed by every one.

Robert White, son of Mr. and S. M. White went to St. Louis Friday of last week to join his uncle and go with him on the Spring trip for sale of Fall goods in the clothing line. This is the young man's second trip on the road and he will be gone a month or two.

Today is Arbor Day. It is the day set apart for planting trees and shrubbery and it is a day celebrated in many schools by the class planting of trees, etc. The idea is to secure the beautification of the waste places with the trees, vines and shrubs. The day has never obtained much notice or prominence here.

Orders have come from the secretary of the navy that the officers who have been enjoying their drinks on the warships and naval stations while the rank and file have had to do without, will also have to do without liquor hereafter. The orders are that no more liquor shall be allowed at naval station or aboard the vessels of the navy. The order was issued by the surgeon and sanctioned by Secretary Daniels.

Any political ambition which stands in the way of giving publicity to the county affairs, will be squelched promptly by the voters. The public is entitled to know what is going on in the county for which its money is being expended, and the county officer who, for his personal political reasons, undertakes to defeat the best method for giving the information to the tax payers, will be politely requested to remain at home the balance of his natural life.

The office of the state board of horticulture sends out warning again about the apple prospects. It says that apple scab took both fruit and leaves clean from thousands of acres of apple trees in 1912. Hundreds of orchards of 40 acres or more were entirely denuded of fruit. Weather conditions this year are exactly favorable to the growth of this fungus. The orchardists must fight it. Right now the trees should be sprayed with lime-sulphur, a gallon to 25 gallons of water. Spray same again when bloom starts to fall, excepting add one pound of arsenate of lead to each 25 gallons. Finish spraying before the bloom closes. The bulletin says that bad weather is bad enough at all times but if the crop is lost this year it will be the fault of those who do not spray and not the dry weather. Write the state board for information.

Drouth In Illinois

The state of Illinois added sixteen counties to the dry list, at the Tuesday election. Some of the larger cities like Bloomington and Decatur, towns of 30,000 people went over to the dries as did Freeport, another big place. Sixteen counties thus are added to 30 already dry, making 46 of 101 counties on the dry list. Bloomington voted commission form of government. The women who entered the aldermanic fight in Chicago to oust such oldtime favorites as "Bathhouse John" Coughlin and others, did not get very far, as the Bath House and others won out easily. The woman vote in Illinois accounted for many of the dry towns there.

Cough Medicine For Children

Too much care cannot be used in selecting a cough medicine for children. It should be pleasant to take, contain no harmful substance and be most effectual. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy meets these requirements and is and is a favorite with the mothers of young children everywhere. For sale by all dealers.

Pee Dee Prattle

Where is that fellow who said we would have no rain this spring? It looks like he had another guess coming.

Car owners and dealers have faces resembling the yard stick this week, while the old cows are laughing because the grass is growing so fast.

Warner Kelso and family moved to the home of his father about one week ago from the Tom Richardson farm near Prairie Hill. A few days later he was offered a position as foreman of a ditching crew by the Santa Fe Ry. Co. which he accepted and reported at Topeka, Kansas last Sunday night.

Otho and Virrel Welch, street car men from Kansas City made a business trip to our berg last week.

Miss Elsie Horton has been engaged to teach a two months term of school at the Cooper school house.

John Chrane and wife have gone to the Ozark country and will visit and do some prospecting in northwestern Arkansas. Mr. Chrane will buy land in that part of the country if suited.

Rev. James Hise failed to fill his appointment here last Sunday on account of being in a protracted meeting at Mike.

C. W. Shoemaker who had two fine mares killed and his barn damaged by lightning several days ago has had his loss adjusted. He received only $75 each for the mares and $50 for the damage to the barn. While the amount allowed for the mares represents only a fractional part of their value, yet after all every little bit helps.

Riley Weatherford has about completed a nice five room dwelling on the farm he recently purchased of the heirs of Marion Cowser and he and family will soon move from town to their new home.

As a result of the annual school meetings in the several districts of this locality the following named patrons were elected directors. The Pee Dee district elected two, W. D. Johnson and Ad Embree on account of a vacancy; the Cook elected one, John Price; the Cooper elected one Ed McCart; the Oldham elected one, Ben Littler; the Cross Road elected one, Jesse Cloyd; the Prather elected one, Porter Shoemaker.

Freeman Prather is having more trouble over his cultivator than an old hen with one chicken.

Election Brunswick

Ludwig Kinkhorst was elected mayor, Lur Watkins, chief of police and council, L. Zimmerman 1st., Robt Kelliker 2d. and Herbert Perry 3d. wards. Judge Herring and Cebe Wallace were elected for the long term and Horace Mann for short term school directors. The election was unusually lively. Vigorous contests for all the offices and some narrow escapes from defeat.

Candidate For Judge

Will Herring is a candidate for Judge of the Western district. Almost everyone in the Western Central part of the county knows him, and many brother farmers and stock men in all other parts of the county.

Will has been running a stock and grain farm west of this town for several years, and the improvement he has made in the place and the crops he has raised testify to his ability and energy. He is a Brunswicker and has had a wide experience in many lines of business for a young man. Perhaps no opponent which he may have, tho it appears now that he would have no opponent, would be able to show connection with bigger business than Will, no matter how much longer in business.

With a good education, a fine perception of business principles and conservatism seldom attributed to one under 30, Will Herring, if elected, ought to develop into a valuable officer for the county and an agreeable man on the bench.
